Why Do Auto Policies Need Uninsured Motorist Coverage?

What is Uninsured Motorist Coverage?

Introduction:

Uninsured Motorist Coverage: What It is and Why Auto Policies Need it

Uninsured motorist coverage is a vital component of auto insurance policies designed to protect drivers from the financial burdens that can arise in accidents involving uninsured or underinsured drivers. In the event of a collision caused by a driver who lacks insurance coverage, uninsured motorist coverage can provide necessary compensation for medical bills, property damage, and other expenses that would otherwise be the responsibility of the insured driver. This type of coverage is essential because it safeguards policyholders against the financial risks associated with accidents caused by uninsured
